

Loan Processing Workflow

1. Intake and Verification (CSA / Initial Processing)

Document Gathering

The process begins with collecting borrower requirements, including:

- Passport
- Seaman's Book
- Employment Contract (may be submitted later if unavailable during initial application)

Filing and Transmission

Documents are scanned and compiled into a single PDF file and transmitted to the appropriate team through Microsoft Teams.

Standard filing order:

1. Clearance Form (Interview Notes)
2. Application Form
3. House Sketch
4. Supporting Documents

Initial Computation

CSA performs an initial loan computation before forwarding the application to the next stage.

2. Credit Investigation (CIG)

Information Verification

The Credit Investigation Group (CIG) receives the file and begins validating all borrower information.

Borrower Interview

The borrower is contacted and interviewed using standard verification forms to confirm details such as:

- Date of Birth

- Employment Information
- Other relevant personal information

Record Checking

The CIG team conducts background checks, including:

- Negative File Information System (NFIS)

- Other internal and external verification databases

The completed verification profile is then forwarded to the approving officers.

3. Committee Review and Approval

Committee Deliberation

A committee composed of designated approving officers reviews:

- Credit investigation findings
- Loan computations

The committee may utilize a dashboard or voting mechanism to reach a decision.

Decision Outcomes

The committee may:

- Approve the application
- Deny the application
- Modify the approved loan amount

Example:

- Requested Amount: ₱100,000
- Approved Amount: ₱50,000

Notice to Revisit

If information is incomplete, inaccurate, or requires correction, a Notice to Revisit is issued and the application is returned to the previous stage for revision.

4. Negotiation and Documentation (LRA)

Counter-Offer Process

If the approved amount differs from the requested amount, the borrower is informed of the committee's decision.

The borrower may:

- Accept the approved amount
- Submit a counter-offer
- Request reconsideration

Counter-offers are returned to the committee for further deliberation.

Trigger for Documentation

Once the borrower accepts the approved terms and signs the computation form, the application officially proceeds to documentation.

Document Preparation
